The screenshot shows the ScienceDirect website homepage. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the ScienceDirect logo, a search bar, and links for "Journals & Books", "Register", and "Sign in". A yellow arrow points from the "Sign in" button in the top navigation bar to a callout box that highlights the "Sign in" button in the main content area. The callout box also includes a "Register" button and a link for "You have institutional access". Below the navigation bar, there is a search bar with the text "Search for peer-reviewed journals, articles, book chapters and open access content." and several input fields for "Keywords", "Author name", "Journal/book title", "Volume", "Issue", and "Page". The main content area features a large image of a virus particle and a text box that reads: "The most relevant research on Novel Coronavirus (SARS-CoV-2) and related viruses is available for free on ScienceDirect, and can be downloaded in a machine-readable format for text mining. Alternatively, visit the Elsevier Novel Coronavirus Information Center for general health information and advice." Below this text is a button that says "Visit the Information Center >". At the bottom of the page, there is a section titled "Explore scientific, technical, and medical research on ScienceDirect" with links for "Physical Sciences and Engineering", "Life Sciences", "Health Sciences", and "Social Sciences and Humanities". Under "Physical Sciences and Engineering", there are links for "Chemical Engineering", "Chemistry", and "Computer Science". A footer link says "Help improve this page".

The screenshot shows the ScienceDirect website interface. At the top, there are browser tabs for 'desknet's NEO' and 'ScienceDirect.com | Science, health...'. The address bar shows 'sciencedirect.com'. The ScienceDirect logo is on the left, and navigation links for 'Journals & Books', 'Sign out', and 'You have institutional access' are on the right. A search bar is present with the text 'Search for peer-reviewed journals, articles, book chapters and open access content.' Below the search bar are input fields for 'Keywords', 'Author name', 'Journal/book title', 'Volume', 'Issue', and 'Pages', along with an 'Advanced search' button. A large banner image of orange and red coronavirus particles is displayed. The banner contains the text: 'The most relevant research on Novel Coronavirus (SARS-CoV-2) and related viruses is available for free on ScienceDirect, and can be downloaded in a machine-readable format for text mining. Alternatively, visit the Elsevier Novel Coronavirus Information Center for general health information and advice.' Below the banner is a button that says 'Visit the Information Center >'. Underneath the banner, the text reads 'Explore scientific, technical, and medical research on ScienceDirect'. Below this are links for 'Physical Sciences and Engineering', 'Life Sciences', 'Health Sciences', and 'Social Sciences and Humanities'. The 'Physical Sciences and Engineering' section is expanded, showing sub-links for 'Chemical Engineering', 'Chemistry', and 'Computer Science'. A description for 'Physical Sciences and Engineering' states: 'From foundational science to new and novel research, discover our large collection of Physical Sciences and Engineering publications, covering a range of disciplines, from the theoretical to the applied.' In the bottom right corner, there is a 'Help improve this page' button.
